ABSTRACT OF THE DISCLOSURE

A new method for predicting the risk of cancer mortality, rheumatoid arthritis; systemic lupus erythematosus, psoriatic arthritis, and all-cause mortality is disclosed. The method uses serum bilirubin levels as indicator for such risks, lower serum bilirubin levels generally indicating increased risk and higher levels a decreased risk.